

The Magic Door by Matei Popa

I opened the magic door and saw...

Melting chocolate stars

Dragging me to savour their delicious, milky taste.

I opened the magic door and saw...

The breath of a fearless dragon

Waiting patiently for its prey

Like a boy mourning the loss of his best ball.

I opened the magic door and saw...

A giant box of crispy, golden chicken nuggets

Bouncing on a huge trampoline

Like playful balls.

I opened the magic door and saw...

World peace.
